The belief that the approaching session of the Legislative Council will be short is general. Good authority gives it a probable existence of about three weeks—a period quite as long as the Governor, with his well known distaste for business of any kind, will be found willing to devote to the object. The financial condition of the country will be among the first things discussed. It is difficult to imagine what plan will be submitted for extricating the colony from its difficulties. Some official members of the Council suggest an increased tariff; others direct taxation. The Governor proposes a new loan, with an Imperial guarantee. The taxpayers demand the inauguration of a system of economy by the reduction of the Governor's overgrown salary by at least $10,000; the discharge of every unnecessary official; the consolidation of the Judicial, Lands and Works, Registry, Gaol and Postal establishments; the substitution of Justices of the Peace for Stipendiary Magistrates in the least important districts, and the removal of the capital to Victoria. These economies would save the colony an expenditure of at least $150,000 per annum, and enable it to go home next fall for a loan with some chance of success. So long as the outgo of a colony exceeds its income, there is little hope that either English capitalists or the Imperial Government will be found willing to advance money except upon substantial security. We are not aware what answer the Home Government has returned to the plaintive appeals of the Executive for more money; but we should not be surprised to learn that he has been instructed to reduce the cost of his establishment to a figure consistent with the revenue. The important question of Confederation must, perforce, come before the Council; and we shall know whether his Excellency has fulfilled his solemn pledge to lay the resolution of last year before the Canadian Government. The Capital question will, doubtless, be brought up in the shape of an inquiry. The Governor will be asked to state why he has disregarded the petition of nineteen-twentieths of the people of the whole country, and the vote of the Council, by convening that body at New Westminster instead of at Victoria. There should be something to show for the herculean labors of the Attorney General, who has been (ostensibly) so busy for the last twelve months in "drawing up bills" that he has been unable to perform any other official work whatsoever. On the whole, we fancy that the session, even if short, will not be devoid of interest. In the three weeks allotted for the session, much good may be effected by legislation if Government is disposed to do so.

The President here read the resolution. Correspondent—What will the Senate do, Mr. President, under that resolution, if you still insist upon having General Thomas act as Secretary ad interim? President—I don't see that they can do anything. The resolution itself is the end of the matter as far as the Senate is concerned, unless the House present articles of impeachment, and the Senate undertakes to try the Executive, and resolve itself into a high court of impeachment. Correspondent—Do you think Congress really will attempt impeachment? President—I don't know indeed, nor do I care. It would make very little difference to me. The correspondent here asked what the President would do in the event of the passage of Edmunds' bill of suspension, to which the President answered substantially as follows: Sir, I would not obey the law if they attempted to suspend me. The law is clearly unconstitutional. There is a point against it which you gentlemen of the press seem to have overlooked. The bill of Senator Edmunds to suspend the President pending trial, would undoubtedly be an ex post facto law, so far as my case is concerned; such a law is declared unconstitutional by the very letter of the Constitution itself. My offence, we will suppose, is the removal of Stanton. That is an accomplished fact; any law proscribing a penalty for that act would be ex post facto, and therefore unconstitutional. (How, therefore, can Congress legally pass a bill of such a character?) The correspondent remarked that certain Radicals might argue that a persistence in keeping Stanton out of office, after the Senate declared his removal contrary to law, and after the supposed passage of Edmunds' suspension bill, would be bringing the question out of the operation of ex post facto law. The President replied that it would not alter the character of the law. The removal of Stanton—an act performed before the passage of the proposed law. In reply to an inquiry as to whether the President had seen Gen. Thomas since the interview of the latter with Stanton, he said yes, and proceeded to state what had occurred at that interview. Gen. Thomas, he said, waited upon Stanton, and showed him the President's order removing him, and appointing Thomas as Secretary of War ad interim. Stanton read the order and asked Thomas whether he would be obliged to vacate the office forthwith. Thomas replied that his instructions were to assume control immediately. Stanton then said he would like to have time to arrange and take away his papers and documents. To which Thomas replied that considerable time would be allowed for such a purpose. No time, however, was allowed for Stanton to finish his arrangements. The President repeatedly expressed his utter indifference as to what course Congress might adopt on the impeachment question, and in answer to a parting remark of your correspondent, that the President might sleep soundly in spite of the threatened impeachment, he said laughingly, "I don't think my slumber will be much disturbed by that affair. I shall sleep soundly, and awake refreshed."

Reply to High-Pressure.

EDITOR COLONIST:—Observing in your valuable paper a communication from "High Pressure" respecting the "Results of the public meeting on Confederation, will you kindly allow me to beg of him to keep his weather eye open and look well to his safety-valve. If "High-Pressure" can be cooled down with this advice for the present, I am confident that he has no reason to fear, or to "blow up" the Committee for inactivity. I fear that the frequent musings upon "Beacon Hill Scenery" have so absorbed the mind of "High Pressure" that he has failed to notice the fact that the committee had "moved on" in the matter for which they had been delegated long before the "Obstructionists" had completed their active canvas of the city for signers to that petition which nobody understands save that popular individual who claims no nationality, and the three or four friends with whom "he is on speaking terms," and who now doubtless experience the disagreeable sensations resulting from plucking his bad chestnuts from the fire. Let "High Pressure" be assured, therefore, that Confederation will soon blow its shrill whistle in the city of Victoria, and that his engine, like the crawfish (not codfish), has been turned the wrong way on the track.

DOUBLE-ACTION LOW PRESSURE.

A Bremen journal contains the following advertisement:—"A young gentleman on the point of getting married, in desirous of meeting a man of experience who will dissuade him from the step."

The amount of gold taken from the several gold mines of Nova Scotia for the quarter ending September, 1867, was 7,583 oz. 9 dwts and 13 grs. Total for the year 1867, 27,563 oz. 6 dwts, 19 grs, being some 3,000 oz. in excess of last year's yield.

The Herald Correspondent's interview with Johnson.

New York, Feb. 22.—The Herald's Washington correspondent had an interview with President Johnson last night relative to the removal of Secretary Stanton. The correspondent remarked that the country was surprised at his action.

The President smiled and inquired, "Well, what do the people say? I suppose they are surprised, but I have done only what I had determined on long ago."

The correspondent said; "The removal then is not in pursuance of a recent determination on your part, Mr. President?"

The President—Not at all, sir; the people seem to have mistaken my course altogether in this matter. I never had but one determination on this subject, but I have acted carefully, prudently and moderately. Perhaps I have been too slow about removing Stanton, but not because I feared the bugbear of impeachment, or that I feared anything that Congress might do. Nothing that that body would do or attempt would intimidate or surprise me. I know they are capable of doing anything. I delayed final action solely to let the country see and understand the position of Stanton. We first intimated to him that we would like him to withdraw from our privy council. He did not take the hint. We then requested him to resign. He refused. We then suspended him under the constitutional power which we have to suspend or remove a member of the cabinet. The act of suspension was not in conflict with the Tenure of Office Act, though we do not therefore recognize its constitutionality. As a matter of courtesy we sent reasons for our action to the Senate; that body pretended not to consider them sufficient, and assumed to restate Stanton in the office. Well, we still waited, hoping Stanton would see the propriety of resigning himself. Sherman and Grant offered to go to Stanton and advise him to resign. Here is a letter which indicates what they proposed. [The President read part of a letter from Gen. Sherman, dated January 15th, saying that Gen. Grant and himself proposed to go to Stanton, and say that for the good of the service and country, he ought to resign. It would be time enough to consider ulterior matters.] The President then continued; After waiting a reasonable time, we thought proper to-day to order the removal of Stanton and appoint Gen. Thomas as Secretary of War ad interim. This is the whole story.

Correspondent—Was this step discussed in the Cabinet meeting?

President—No, sir, not precisely. A general policy was agreed upon some time ago, and the removal to-day is in accordance therewith. I have just received a copy of the resolution adopted by the Senate to-night in executive session.

The President here read the resolution. Correspondent—What will the Senate do, Mr. President, under that resolution, if you still insist upon having General Thomas act as Secretary ad interim?

President—I don't see that they can do anything. The resolution itself is the end of the matter as far as the Senate is concerned, unless the House present articles of impeachment, and the Senate undertakes to try the Executive, and resolve itself into a high court of impeachment.

Correspondent—Do you think Congress really will attempt impeachment?

President—I don't know indeed, nor do I care. It would make very little difference to me.

The correspondent here asked what the President would do in the event of the passage of Edmunds' bill of suspension, to which the President answered substantially as follows:

Sir, I would not obey the law if they attempted to suspend me. The law is clearly unconstitutional. There is a point against it which you gentlemen of the press seem to have overlooked. The bill of Senator Edmunds to suspend the President pending trial, would undoubtedly be an ex post facto law, so far as my case is concerned; such a law is declared unconstitutional by the very letter of the Constitution itself. My offence, we will suppose, is the removal of Stanton. That is an accomplished fact; any law proscribing a penalty for that act would be ex post facto, and therefore unconstitutional. (How, therefore, can Congress legally pass a bill of such a character?)

The correspondent remarked that certain Radicals might argue that a persistence in keeping Stanton out of office, after the Senate declared his removal contrary to law, and after the supposed passage of Edmunds' suspension bill, would be bringing the question out of the operation of ex post facto law. The President replied that it would not alter the character of the law. The removal of Stanton—an act performed before the passage of the proposed law.

In reply to an inquiry as to whether the President had seen Gen. Thomas since the interview of the latter with Stanton, he said yes, and proceeded to state what had occurred at that interview. Gen. Thomas, he said, waited upon Stanton, and showed him the President's order removing him, and appointing Thomas as Secretary of War ad interim. Stanton read the order and asked Thomas whether he would be obliged to vacate the office forthwith. Thomas replied that his instructions were to assume control immediately. Stanton then said he would like to have time to arrange and take away his papers and documents. To which Thomas replied that considerable time would be allowed for such a purpose. No time, however, was allowed for Stanton to finish his arrangements.

The President repeatedly expressed his utter indifference as to what course Congress might adopt on the impeachment question, and in answer to a parting remark of your correspondent, that the President might sleep soundly in spite of the threatened impeachment, he said laughingly, "I don't think my slumber will be much disturbed by that affair. I shall sleep soundly, and awake refreshed."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Prevents weakness.—Whenever circumstances produce impure blood, or lessen the force of the circulation, stagnation takes place in the lungs, and consumption or other formidable symptoms discover themselves. Let Holloway's remedies be tried on the first feelings of debility, or on the first annoyance from a dry, hacking cough. The Ointment should be well rubbed, twice a day, upon the chest, and between the shoulders, and the Pills should be taken in alternative doses, to purify the blood and cleanse the system, without weakening it, by rousing or aggravating existing nervous irritation. These observations carry additional weight in summer, when decline and general weakness from heat and other causes are more apt to prevail.

MR. CLARKE'S BENEFIT.—It gives us much pleasure to state that the performance and the audience on Wednesday night were everything that could be desired. Whatever may have been wanting on the previous occasion to sustain the high reputation of the Dramatic Club was abundantly supplied; and it must have been gratifying to the beneficiary, as the leading spirit of that Club, and as a gentleman of noble and generous instincts, to see how thoroughly his compere supported his efforts and the public acknowledged his merits. The first piece was Tom Taylor's pleasing comedy of 'Still Waters Run Deep.' There are really only three characters in this play, viz: Mildmay, Capt Hawkesley and Mrs Sternhold—Potter being a very ordinary old man, neither good nor bad, clever nor stupid, and Mrs Mildmay, like many other young brides governed by bad domestic influences, a little willful and foolish. All the other parts amount to nothing. Yet there are few polite comedies, when put on the stage effectively and the parts well rendered, more attractive. Mildmay is considered Mr Clarke's favorite character, and throughout all its difficult and delicate phases, we must confess we have seldom, if ever, witnessed triumph, despair, or emotion indeed of any kind would utterly destroy its unity—thus the actor is left to limits most trying to correct taste, that of representing an unappreciated, ill-used, disappointed husband, full of affection, conscious of his own merits, and smarting under a keen sense of injustice. To say Mr Clarke did perfect justice to the character of Mildmay, from beginning to end, is paying him the highest compliment it is in our power to pay; and in doing so we feel assured we but express the sentiment of every person in the large, brilliant and intellectual house of Wednesday. Through every scene, where he boldly but quietly crushes the villain Hawkley, destroys his schemes, and finally sends him to jail, where he overcomes the obstinate usurpation of Mrs Sternhold, and proves his affection at last to his wife, required just the quiet dignity to give true effect to this beautiful character which Mr Clarke adopted, and nothing more. Upon the whole, it was a pure, splendid piece of acting, and at once establishes Mr Clarke's ability, judgment and taste. Mr Anderson's Captain Hawkley was also exceedingly well represented. The cool effrontery, boldness and rage of the rake, swindler and disappointed duellist, were given with all the emotions necessary to each, while his attitude and look added genuineness to each of the passions as they swept along in rapid mastery of his heart. The acting of Mr Anderson on Wednesday proves what we said of him on a previous occasion, that he has much of the genuine talent of the real actor. His Captain Hawkley was infinitely better than his "Cousin Joe," and we think still he is capable of even greater achievements than his Captain Hawkley, good as that is. Mr Keast, as Potter, the common-place old man, covered himself with glory. As an ordinary thing, old men on the stage are very stale affairs; but Mr Keast, by some means, managed to infuse an immense amount of interest in his Potter, and gained the approbation of the audience throughout. Mrs Fowles also sustained her reputation as usual, looked more charmingly, and played more up to nature than we ever saw her before. Miss Yeoman also acquitted herself with great credit. By degrees conquering the natural and becoming diffidence of a young debutante her Sternhold on Wednesday gives much promise of final success. In some of the scenes with Hawkley she both spoke and acted well, and was justly applauded. Both these ladies have one particular merit, that of being at all times well prepared. They seldom or never require the aid of the prompter. 'Still Waters' on this occasion passed off without a single flaw; and was, altogether, a wonderful performance for amateurs who have so little practice on the stage. The concluding farce was 'Boots at the Swan.' We do not wish to appear fulsome in our praise, but we assert the farce was as good as the comedy. The stars of the after piece were Messrs Gillon, Callingham, Brown, and Miss Araminta de Beevor. Some think Mr Callingham overacted his Jacob Earwig; but overacting, be it understood, is just the merit of such characters. Familiarity, and even impertinence, must be looked for when we descend to a level with such people and make them our companions for a time, though it is for the accomplishment of a specific purpose. Mr C. acted both but overdid neither. In the requirements of low comedy we doubt very much if Mr Callingham has his equal on the Pacific coast. In the estimation of all present we believe the gem of the after-piece, if not of the night, was Miss Cecilia Moonshine. Everybody knows the impersonator of this glorious piece of femininity is a gentleman, but as he withholds his name we do not feel justified in making it public; otherwise we should have pleasure in sending it abroad in connection with one of the most finished and wonderful pieces of acting it was ever our good fortune to see. It kept the house in continual laughter and astonishment, and called down thunders of applause. We have no hesitation in saying that Miss de Beevor's 'Moonshine' would do credit to any of the best London theatres. Miss Fawcett looks so pretty that we hope to see her essay something more prominent than we have yet seen her attempt, and we think she will succeed. We must not omit the orchestral arrangements. They were the best we have seen in Victoria. To lovers of music the performances of Gunther were a rich treat. We have not heard the cornet so well played since we last heard the Marine Band at Plymouth, and every Englishman knows how it is played there. Mr Bushell's original waltzes, composed for the occasion and dedicated to the Club, were generally admired.

STAG HUNT.—It was determined to unearth the stag at the Jewish Cemetery, to witness which a very large assemblage of equestrians and footmen were present. The hounds were let loose too soon, and after making a short circle, the deer was hauled down by one of Snyder's dogs, without being much hurt. After a short rest he was again started with fifteen minutes grace, but made no sport. He was once sighted in the second run not more, probably, than a hundred yards ahead of the hounds, and that was the last of him. Hence it was a gentle walk through the woods, two by two, as customary at a funeral. On reaching the North Dairy Farm we saw the huntsman, surrounded by his hounds, taking it easy across the field, but giving little music, and as the majority of horsemen started off in an opposite direction on a drag-hunt, we came home in a cold, biting easter storm. We don't think much of that stag hunt; we don't think much of Wilson Brown's hounds, and we think less of the management of the whole affair, which otherwise might have ended in a very agreeable day's sport.

PEPPER'S GHOST AND THE FLOATING HEAD.—At the meeting of the Polytechnic branch of the American Institute, lately, the mystery of theatrical ghosts, floating heads, and other seemingly supernatural phenomena was explained. The ghost is only a reflection made on a partition of plate-glass. The real ghost or image is beneath the stage floor, and a partially closed aperture is made in the floor between the ghost and the glass, and while the man sees the glass, the spectators see only the reflection from the glass. In producing the floating head, a large mirror is placed at a certain angle on the stage. This glass has a hole in it through which a human head projects. The ruffi with which the neck is dressed covers the hole close around the chin. The false ceiling overhead is papered to match the side walls, therefore it is evident that to the spectators the reflection of the wall above appears as though it was the back ceiling in the distance. Thus the glass is not seen, and the human head appears to float in air.

ROW IN A CHINA SHOP.—A son of Neptune appeared at the Police Court yesterday, charged with assaulting a Chinaman and breaking the window of his shop. It appeared from the testimony and the statement of the accused that Jack, being about half reas o'er, went into the shop on Wednesday, and took up a pipe, probably in a lark, whereupon the Chinaman shut the door and locked it and called another Celestial to his assistance. Jack, not liking the idea of being caged, knocked one of the Johnnies down, caught up a bar of iron and commenced smashing the windows to escape, but was caught in the act of demolition by one of the police, who released him from the China shop and lodged him in jail for the night. The Court fined the prisoner five dollars and cautioned Johnny against again looking up a sailor.

FROM FRASER RIVER.—The steamer Enterprise returned from the river at 7 o'clock last evening, bringing 15 passengers and a Cariboo mail. The poor creatures at the Capital appear to be quite jubilate over the Governor's proclamation. The organs are filled with the customary abuse of Victoria. The Examiner hints at a 'raw head and bloody bones' paragraph in the forthcoming Governor's Message which is to 'settle the hash' of Victoria and throw everything into the lap of the Hovels. The Reindeer, it is rumored, is to be stationed at Burrard Inlet, where is situated the only property on the mainland, south of Yale, worth preserving. The Columbian thinks the session will not extend over three weeks.

FROM NANAIMO.—The steamer Constancia arrived from Nanaimo yesterday afternoon. She has on board 340 tons of coal for Sika, and will await the arrival of Prince Matsukoff from San Francisco before proceeding on her voyage. The ship Isaac Jeans sailed yesterday morning for San Francisco, with 1300 tons of coal, and the ship Fanny is loading for the same destination. The seam of coal now being worked is believed to be the most extensive and best yet struck at Nanaimo. The Constancia made the run up to Nanaimo in 6 1/2 hours.

A FENIAN POEM.—The following poetic effusion was picked up in our passage-way. In one corner of the paper appears an Irish flag with the harp. We observe that the author has anticipated the slaughter he hopes to make in 'Old England' by 'murdering' the Queen's English:

Here's to my country,
Likewise to France;
Hell to Old England.
When the boys come back from Ameriky
We'll make the B—y English dance.
Please copy this for me.

Port Ludlow, W. T.

BURGLARY.—Some time during Wednesday night or early yesterday morning the boot and shoe store of H. Mansell, on Government street, was entered by burglars, who forced their way through a back window and stole three or four pairs of boots. The rascals appear to have cut their hands in breaking a pane of glass, the sash bearing the mark of bloody fingers and drops of blood being found upon articles in the store. They were probably frightened off by some person passing along the street, as they left behind a neck-tie, a pair of boots and a glazier's knife.

MECHANICS' LITERARY INSTITUTE.—The entertainment this evening will commence at 8 o'clock. A party will be in attendance at the theatre this day, from 10 o'clock to 1, to secure seats for those applying. The evening's programme will be enlivened by glees, quartettes, etc. Mr Palmer will preside at the piano and open the proceedings with an overture. As it is very desirable that those to whom the prizes are awarded should be present, it is hoped that no contributor will be absent on this occasion.

A SURE REMEDY FOR CHILLS AND FEVER. Ayer's Ague Cure never fails.

THE CASE OF THE BARK AID.—From Port Townsend we learn that the case of the bark Aid was finally submitted to Judge Darwin on Wednesday, and that decision is reserved until after a second suit entered against the same vessel shall have been heard. This second suit is brought by Grennan & Craney, of Utsalady, who chartered and loaded the vessel with lumber; but the vessel having been libelled by Victoria suitors, who was unable to fulfil her contract, and the mill company sue for damages.

GREAT FEAT AT BILLIARDS.—In New York, recently, was played a great billiard match of 1,500 points, for five hundred dollars a side, between two champions of the art of 'the cue and ball,' John M. Dewitt and Wm Goldwait. M Dewitt having scored in eight innings only seventeen points, at his ninth inning ran the game out without stopping, thus scoring 1,483 points in a single run—playing the game in one hour and twenty-eight minutes, and making the most brilliant long run on record.

DESTRUCTION OF TREES.—Jim, Charley, Jack and Joe, four Indians, were yesterday charged with cutting and carrying away trees from Beacon Hill Park. The culprits pleaded guilty, but did not think that they were stealing. The magistrate took a merciful view of their case and allowed them to depart on a deposit of $25 as a pledge of good behavior for three months.

SENTENCED.—Charles Fisher, convicted of enticing a seaman to desert, was yesterday sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or suffer imprisonment for six months with hard labor.

THE COLUMBIAN IS TERRIBLY EXERCISED.—The latest rumor from New Westminster is that Mr Elwyn and Auditor-General Ker are to be added to the Legislative Council, and that Mr Good is also spoken of as an addition to that useful institution. Mr Ker will go in as Treasurer.

NOTICE.—In addition to our regular Letter Express, we have now completed arrangements for forwarding and receiving a weekly Treasure and Freight Express overland via Olympia and Portland.—WELLS, FARGO & Co.—Victoria, March 10, 1868.

LORD PALMERSTON'S statue is to be placed in the corner of the new enclosure in Palace Yard, opposite the Peel monument, it is to be made by Thomas Woolner, a London sculptor, and is to be eight feet high. The site is said to be one of the finest in London.

THE report that the Island members will not attend the Council is not correct. So far as we can learn they will all go up. They can do no good by remaining away. They may effect some good by attending.

ARRESTED.—Daniel Cleal and a woman, whose name we did not learn, were arrested at a late hour last night upon a charge of incendiarism in connection with the late fire on Government street.

WHISKEY SELLING.—Simon Durrors, an old offender, was convicted for the fourth time yesterday for selling liquor to Indians, and sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars or serve a term of four months in the chain-gang.

CROWDED DOCK.—The dock in the police court yesterday was so crowded that it was with difficulty that the culprits could find standing room, there being no less than eight occupants.

DEPARTURES.—The steamer Eliza Anderson, for New Westminster, and the Sir James Douglas for Nanaimo, sailed at an early hour yesterday.

INDIANS FROM CAPE FLATTERY report a ship ashore there. They furnish no particulars, except that she had "klons sticks" (three masts).

The steamer California will be fully due to-morrow.

The Fideliter is probably detained inside the bar by the blow.

The bark Enterprise, from Liverpool, is fully due here.

NAVAL SUPPLIES.—In a few days Messrs. Wilson & Co. will open the premises at Esquimalt, lately occupied by Mr S. Nesbitt, as a depot and bread and biscuit bakery for the supply of Navy Messes, Merchant Shipping and residents generally, at Victoria prices.

FRED PAYNE has removed his Cheap Shaving Shop to the opposite side of Johns street, just above the Miner's Saloon.

TWO YOUNG LADIES HORRIBLY BURNED TO DEATH.—A gentleman, says the Nashville Banner of January 21st, who returned yesterday from a business visit to Chattanooga gives us the details of a horrible accident which happened at that place last Saturday night. About 11 o'clock Miss Mary Daily of Ogdensburg, New York, and Miss Kate Harrington, of Chattanooga, returned to the home of the latter from a party. The fire in their room had almost gone out, and they adopted the always dangerous plan of re-igniting it by pouring coal oil into the grate. The oil immediately ignited, the flames rushing upwards and bursting the can, which is said to have contained fully a gallon. Both of the young ladies almost immediately found themselves enveloped in flames. One rushed shrieking and terror-stricken into the yard, calling in agonized terms for assistance, while the other crept under the bed, in the hope of thus smothering and repressing the fiery element. Unhappily no available aid was at hand, and in a few moments the sufferers had received injuries which were beyond mortal remedy. When found by the other members of the family, who, as far as we could learn, were not aroused by the shrieks thus extorted, the clothes of Miss Harrington were completely burned from her body, and her companion had shored a fate not less terrible. Their faces were so disfigured as to be hardly recognizable. Both died within an hour of each other on Sunday morning.

How tight the hold is that feudalism still has on official Prussia is evinced by the statement that the Prussian Admiral Jackman's prospects of promotion were spoiled by the discovery that one of his near relations was an actor.

A family arrived in Owego, on their way to Montreal to find friends, traveling by means of a rude wagon, in which the infirm parents were drawn by their four boys. They had been eight weeks on the journey. Charitable hands sent them forward by rail.

The Huron (Ontario) Signal, in commenting upon the scarcity of house room in Goderich, says:—'There is not a decent house to be found in town just now. As regards Strathroy, the Age asserts that the same may be said with all possible emphasis. It is doubtful if there is a single town of the same size in the Dominion of Canada where rents are so high, and where such constant demands are made for houses to rent.'

'Are our girls fitted for wives?' queries a sober exchange. 'Are they fitted for husbands?' retorts a young itemizer.

THE GRAND PROMO-

TERS OF HEALTH.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

The grand secret of attaining happiness is to secure good health, without which life is stripped of its pleasure. The first irregularity of any function should be checked, and set right by appropriate doses of these fine purifying Pills, which strengthen the system by thoroughly cleansing the blood from all impurities.

They balance disordered action, remove the cause of disturbance and restore the normal and natural power to every organ, without inconvenience, pain or any other drawback.

Derangement of the Bowels, Liver and Stomach

Complaints.

This medicine is so well known in every part of the world, and the cures effected by its use are so wonderful as to astonish every one. Its pre-eminence as a remedy for bilious and liver complaints and derangements of the stomach and bowels, is no longer a matter of dispute or doubt. In these diseases the best effect of Holloway's invaluable Pills are permanent and extensive that the whole system is renovated, the organs of digestion strengthened, and full and easy assimilation produced, so that both physical and moral energy are increased.

Determination of Blood to the Head.

This is generally occasioned by some irregularity of the stomach and bowels, which, if not quickly attend- ed, frequently terminates fatally. A few doses of the efficient Pills never fail to give tone to the stomach, regularize the secretions, and purify the blood. The symptoms of sight and other indications of approaching apoplexy, are on truly dissipated by a course of these invaluable medicine.

The Female's Best Friend.

For all debilitating disorders peculiar to the sex and in every contingency pertaining to the life of women, young or aged, married or single, this mild but speedy remedy is recommended with friendly earnestness. It will correct all functional derangements to which they are subject.

Scrofula and all Skin Diseases.

For all skin diseases, however inveterate, these medicines are a sovereign remedy. While the Pills act upon the blood, which they purify, the ointment passes through the pores of the skin, and cleanses every structure, as water enters a house by salt penetrates meat.

The whole system of purification is thus rendered healthy, regular and vigorous.

Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

No medicine will cure colds of long duration or such as are settled upon the chest, so quickly as these famous Pills. Even in cases where the first stage of asthma has appeared these Pills may be relied on as a certain and ever failing remedy, particularly if the complaint be attended with indigestion.

Indigestion—Bilious Headache.

These complaints may sometimes be considered trifling but it should be borne in mind that by inattention and neglect, they often end most seriously. Give early attention to a deranged stomach and the use of Holloway's Pills will cut out the source of the complaint, and you will shortly perceive a change for the better in your digestion, spirits, appetite, strength and energy. The improvement, though it may be gradual, will be thorough and lasting.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

of the

[Extract from the Lancet, Dec. 22, 1866]

Liq. CARBONIS DETERGENS—We are very sceptical of the value of new remedies, and it was in a spirit of scepticism

that we tried the liq. carbonis detergens. It is represented to be a concentrated alcoholic solution of the constituents of coal tar, and to contain all the active ingredients of the tar, to wit, benzene, naphthalene, and phenic acid. The addition of water, with agitation, makes a durable emulsion, in which the tar remains in a state of fine suspension, almost equivalent to solution. Our therapeutic experience of the preparation is very satisfactory indeed. In our hands it has been a most effective agent in the case of various skin diseases, especially of the chronic eczematous class; and one case of psoriasis

which had resisted all other kinds of treatment speedily got well under the application of the liq. carbonis deter-gens. We esteem it very valuable addition to our list of skin remedies, and worthy of a very extended trial by the profession. In the above classes of disease, and in various others, such as eczema, etc., the preparation is put into the form of soap.

Medical.

French Medicines,

PREPARED BY

GRIMAULT & CO.

Chemists to H.I.P. Prince Napoleon,

PARIS.

These different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorized by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs. Grimault et Co.'s Medicines.

Grimault's Syrup of Iodized

Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the Hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for Cod Liver Oil, and has been found most beneficial in Diseases of the Chest, Scrofula, Lymphatic

Disorders, Green Sickness, Muscular Atrophy,

and Lack of Appetite. It generates the excretion

in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in Diseases of the Skin. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to Humors and Obstructions of the Glands.

CONSUMPTION CURED!

Grimault's Syrup of Hypo-

phosphite of Lime.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in case of Pthisis and other Diseases of the Lungs. It promptly removes the most serious symtoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

N.B.—Be sure to see that the signature of Grimault

& Co. is affixed to the bottle, as this Syrup is liable to imitations.

NO MORE DIFFICULT FOR PAINFUL

DIGESTION!

DR BURINDU BUISSON'S

(Lecturer of the Paris Imperial Academy of Medicine)

DIGESTIVE LOZENGES

This delicious preparation is always prescribed by the most reputed medical men in France in cases of derangements of the digestive organs, such as

Gastritis,

Gastralgia,

Long and Laborious Digestion,

Wind in the Stomach and Bowels,

Excretion,

Jaundice, and

Complaints of the Liver & Lungs

NEURALGIA,

DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY,

INSTANTLY CURED BY

Grimault's Guarana.

This vegetable substance, which grows in the Brazils

has been employed since time immemorial to cure

Inflammation of the Bowels. It has proved to be of the greatest service in cases of Cholera, as it is a preventive and a cure in cases of Diarrhoea.

NO MORE COPAIBA OR CUBEBS!

Grimault's Capsules and

Liquid Extract of Matico

Vegitalis.

Where all other preparations have failed these preparations will always effect a cure. These insure rapid and extraordinary cure of severe recent and chronic cases of private diseases. They are used in the hospitals of Paris, by the celebrated Dr Ricord, and found greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral remedies and Copiba and Cubebs. The Injection is used in recent, and capsules in more chronic cases.
